ALUMNI DEFEATED BY UNDERGRADES

The annual basketball for the title between the high five and the alumni was staged Friday night at 8 o'clock at the school gym. This annual athletic struggle is one of the big drawing cards of the year as the students home for the Christmas vacation always give the locals a hard game.

This year the undergrads showed the grads some new points in the game and at no time was the game in doubt, taking the game by a score of 13 to nine. Last year was the first time in five years that the alumni was able to defeat the high five, and did it by a score of 23 to 26. The work of Coach Hindelang has produced a team of stars, the college boys were not prepared to tackle. The game with the South Bend high on last Saturday did not seem in any way effect the locals as they were in prime condition and played rings around the disorganized alumni. The line up for the game and blue were Eager, center; Studley and Giel, forwards; Kohler and Russ, guards. Several changes were made during the game in the lineup of the grads those being Gardner, Neusbaum, Goethals, Culp, Edwards, Kiskadden, Giblett.

The curtain raiser was played between the second team and the New York Central, in which the seconds won by a score of 19 to eight.

EVERLY KLAN CHANGES QUARTERS FOR SEASON

Rooms in Guaranty Building to Be New Headquarters of Famous Social Club—New Year Party Last Affair.

By 6 o'clock Friday evening the Everly Klan club in the Keller building was a thing of the past, long to be remembered in the minds of those who have been associated with it in past years. At a meeting held several weeks ago it was decided by the remaining members of the organization to disband, but at a later meeting the members not caring to disperse the feeling and spirit of fellowship remaining among the few that are left of the once famous crowd decided to secure other quarters which could be supported by the club. Two rooms were secured in the Guaranty building and the entire furnishings of the club were moved excepting the pool room furnishings, which have been sold. Although the old club with its stately rooms clinging with memories of past good times and pleasant evenings are gone, the members have taken an active interest in making the same feeling of fellowship prevail in the new club. The new rooms, although there are only two of them, are extra large and the $1,500 worth of furnishings make a most elaborate and luxurious club for evening pleasures.

In the fall of 1910 Otto Fries, former manager of the Morning News office in this city, with the aid of several friends, solicited among the younger set of the city and secured enough names to organize the Everly Klan. Rooms were secured in the Keller building and the club was prosperous for several months and in the fall of 1912 decided to remodel and enlarge the club. Another suite of rooms was taken over by the club and improvements to the extent of several hundred dollars was made. The Klan's most successful season was that of 1912 and at this time the membership was the largest during its organization. During the last spring many of the members left the club and the membership of the club fell so low as to be unable to keep up the heavy expense of the rooms in the Keller building.

William Hoerneman, the present high executor of the organization and an active worker for the club since its beginning, has been elected to this office for three successive times. Otto Fries, prime instigator, was the first president, and held office until he left the city.

The New Year's dancing and watch party to be given at the Mishawaka hotel New Year's eve will be the last social affair of the Everly Klan, and is being given in the nature of a last farewell guest party. Many of the younger society set of both South Bend and Mishawaka will regret the passing of the Klan social affairs, as they have been the most elaborate occasions for the social seasons for the past three years in either city.

The club has secured notorious fame throughout northern Indiana for its dances and social affairs, as they have always been active workers in making preparation for success in a social way.

Considerable difficulty was experienced by the firemen as Mrs. Perkins is very seriously ill and not expected to live. As the house was filled with neighbors when the fire broke out, a calamity was probably averted by the quick work of the department.

ORPHANS ENJOY CHURCH CANTATA

"A Friend" Pays Way of Hundred to First M. E. Performance—Dispersary Fund Swelled $43.

FOR THE DISPENSARY. Previously acknowledged $1,911.77 Toy contest 79.70 Pink Stocking Campaign 81.08 Citizens of River Park 19.30 Cantata 43.00

Total $2,140.85

"The Song in the Air," the cantata that was given at the First M. E. church Friday night, was indeed a song in the air for the 100 children that attended from the orphans' asylum. It was a big event with them and it was difficult to decide which were the more interested spectators at the clever electrical spectacle, the children who came as the guests of "a friend" or those who had come merely to be amused.

The little ones from the asylum were the guests first of the street car company, it bringing them to the church door free of charge, and then of a man who thought that $15 was a small price for the making happy of 100 childish hearts. That they were made greatly happy was proven by the many exclamations of awe that arose from them as each feature of the spectacle unfolded itself.

The cantata was given first on Christmas eve by the members of the Sunday school and made such an impression upon those that witnessed it that they were requested to repeat the performance on Friday night for the benefit of the Children's dispensary. A small admission was charged and the tidy sum of $43 was the result. This money will be turned into the dispensary fund.

"Willfully" Stricken From Original Charge in Court Martial of Maj. Hagadorn.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Maj. Charles B. Hagadorn, military attaché of the American embassy in St. Petersburg, was found guilty by court martial Friday of disobeying orders and sentenced to a mild reprimand. Before a military court at Governor's Island, Maj. Hagadorn was tried for "willfully" disobeying the command of the president of the United States to remain at St. Petersburg until further orders. The court amended the charge to read, "willfully disobeyed," and of this offense found him guilty.

Maj. Hagadorn was one of the first officers appointed to the foreign service by Pres. Wilson. After a month in St. Petersburg his health began to fail and about six weeks ago he called the war department for permission to return to the United States. Permission was granted, but after the officer had checked his baggage, bought his railroad ticket and started for the station, he received another message from the war department, telling him to stay in St. Petersburg and make his application for release through the embassy—provided he had not "already started." Maj. Hagadorn, who was greatly worried by his physical condition, decided that to all intents and purposes he had started for home and three weeks later he walked into the war department at Washington and reported to the chief of the staff.
